Convocation Series Opened At Klein by President Halsey

"Why" is the key word in higher education," said President James H. Halsey at the first all-university convocation of the new semester last week.

Basing his talk on the philosophical truth, the President went on to say that the three most important whys are—"Why are we here on this earth? Why are you here as a student in college? and Why is it that five years after we have fought World War II are we fighting again?" "The word SCHOLARSHIP is certainly important, IDEALS we must have, and APPLICATION is necessary, but — WHY applies specifically to higher education."

He enlarged upon the highly pertinent subject by saying, "WHY" is the key to our personal adjustment too. By asking "Why" are we doing what we are trying to do, you clarify your objectives. It is also a dangerous word—a word that has caused revolutions and will perhaps bring about changes in institutions." With these thoughts to reflect upon, President Halsey concluded that WHY is a question "you must ask yourself constantly."

The program was opened with the invocation given by the Rev. Dr. William H. Alderson, First Methodist Church, and the introduction of the Deans and Directors. The scripture reading was by Father David F. Bannon, Curate, St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church and the Benediction was given by Rabbi Albert L. Martin of Park Avenue Temple.

Also on the platform were Dr. Clarence D. L. Ropp, Dean of College of Arts and Science; Dr. Harry A. Becker, Dean of Administration; Dr. Eaton V. W. Read, Dean of College of Business Administration; Mr. Earle M. Bigsbee, Dean of Junior College of Connecticut; Mr. Chauncey L. Fish, Dean of Division of Student Personnel; Miss Martha P. Jayne, Dean of College of Nursing; Dr. Raymond E. Wochner, Dean of College of Education; Mr. Harry A. Kendall, Director of Division of Engineering; Mr. John Bodnar,

Director of Division of Engineering; and Dr. Robert H. W. Strang, Director, Fones School of Dental Hygiene.

Beany Discipline Court Meets To Penalize Wayward Frosh

By RUTH ZUCKER

Arrested: Joe College by Patrolman Big Wheel. He was brought into court Thursday afternoon for failing to show proper respect and deference on campus.

Wondering what this is all about? Well—here's the answer kids. UB is now sporting a Student Court. To be more exact, a Beanie Discipline Court.

It is felt by the Student Council, that an organization such as this would aid in developing that needed "oomph" among the Frosh newcomers as well as help to foster good clean spirit and fun.

The structure of this new bid for campus tradition involves quite a few upper classmen. The four big-wigs, excuse me, I mean judges, consist of Student Council Officers Stewart Baker, Robert Heath, James Quigley, and civilian Marge Cisero. Prosecuting Attorney Sid Litwak's sense of humor is sure to help in the courtroom, for, after all, we can all remember "the days when." The three attorneys for the defense Robert Hollander, Roz Rappaport, and James Grossman are sure to have a lot of hard work in store for them if they are to get light sentences for these first offenders. Chief of Police Frank Castellucci will be heading a force of fifteen men to apprehend the criminals. "Ah, come on Officer. We won't do it again." By the way Frank, those armbands spoil the fun. Did you ever think of plainclothes detectives? At the same time, standing behind this experiment to give it that official touch, is Mr. John Sherry as faculty advisor. Hmm . . . I wonder . . . Who's enjoying this more?

This sounds great so far. But, those regulations . . . the poor, poor Freshmen. Until October 6th they must go through the following torture. Beanies are to be worn constantly while on campus. The boundaries of this campus, if you didn't know, are Iranistan Avenue, Railroad Avenue, Main Street, and the Seawall. In addition, a 4x8 inch card is to be worn with the name printed clearly on it. (Girls, you're in if you have a good handwriting) Last, but not least, all upper classmen are to be addressed as Ma'am and Sir. There really aren't very many regulations. Just remember, only one more week.

This may seem a little tough to you students just entering UB, but we all feel that the day will soon come when you can look back on all of this as a small part of the fun and zest of college life. Hope you do well here, Frosh. We're all root'in for you.

'Miss Esquire Girl' Contest Seeks New Calendar Beauty

U. B. has a traditional Freshman Queen, a Campus Sweetheart, and a Wistaria Queen. Now The SCRIBE is seeking a campus beauty who may become "Miss 1951 Esquire Calendar Girl!"

A University contest sponsored by the SCRIBE will find UB's most beautiful co-ed and enter her in a coast-to-coast college girl contest sponsored by Esquire Magazine.

The final winner, to be selected by Bing Crosby, Kay Kyser, Milton Berle, Eddie Cantor, Horace Heidt, Fred Waring, Rudy Vallee, and Ralph Edwards, will be nationally honored in every way befitting a Queen.

Among the rewards Miss Esquire Calendar Girl will reap are an all-expense paid trip to New York, a screen test by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, appearances on network radio and television shows, and her picture in Esquire Magazine. She will also receive mention by famous Broadway and Hollywood columnists and many other one-in-a-lifetime opportunities.

To co-operate with the SCRIBE in this new, exciting venture, all students are urged to nominate their applicant (any co-ed is eligible) and submit her qualifications with a glossy-print photograph to the SCRIBE office located in the rear of Cortright Hall before October 15.

Credit Men Assist Marketing Group To Teach Course

A 16-week credit management course will be offered this semester in co-operation with three local credit agencies, it was announced this week by Charles F. Petitjean, acting chairman of the department of marketing.

The course was introduced on an experimental basis last spring and is designed to bring out the principles of credit and collections as practiced in industry, banking circles, mercantile establishments and agency work. The subjects include credit terminology, sources of credit information, use of agency reports, interpretation of financial statements, retail credit and collection methods and procedures.

Instructors for the course include Walter Kerr, secretary-manager of the Bridgeport Credit Rating Bureau, handling retail credit management; Earl A. ## So You're 1-A

Many inquiries have reached the administration concerning the status of college students. Selective Service officials in the greater Bridgeport area offer a cheerful note. Students in the age group 17 through 19 can anticipate an uninterrupted year at college.

For those students who may receive an induction notice, we suggest the following procedure:

(1) Take your physical examination as ordered by the local board.

(2) After you have taken this examination await notification from your local board concerning your draft status.

(3) Send your local board number and its address with your personal selective number to Dean Fish's office, so that a postponement may be recommended.

In cases where students are members of Reserve or National Guard units upon receipt of orders to active duty, educational deferment has been granted in several cases.

If you have any further questions contact Dean Fish's office at Howland Hall.

Learn to Vote

Many students on campus will soon be 21, and will suddenly realize how poorly equipped they are to vote in the next election. Many will comment "I'd better start reading the newspapers and become acquainted with the political world."

The sad part about the situation is the glaring truth involved. All too often an individual never gets around to reading the newspapers or finding out what is going on in the world outside his own group. Lack of information on current affairs is shrugged off with the excuse "I've never taken a political science course," or "I don't have time to read anything besides textbooks."

It is our duty to ourselves as citizens, whether we are eligible to vote or not, to be well informed on political issues and politicians. It is important to know which politicians spell g-r-a-f-t—and which do not. As college students we should be well informed, influential citizens. If the habit of reading at least one good daily newspaper has not already been developed, today is a good time to start!

Parking Etiquette

Have you ever had just a few minutes to get to class and found yourself without a parking space? With the present parking situation on campus, it could happen to any car owner.

It seems that there are some inconsiderate souls here at UB who have no regard for their fellow students. They will park their car, never giving a thought to anyone else. A car will be parked, wasting space that could be used by another student. There are no booklets that we can distribute, concerning car etiquette, but there are unwritten rules of courtesy.

First and foremost, don't waste space! Pull your car up far enough to allow room for someone else to pull in behind you. Don't go to the other extreme and pull up so close to your neighbor's car that he is unable to pull out.

A few words of warning! Don't park too close to the car in front of you; don't park too close to corners and beware of non-parking areas and fire hydrants. Remember, those little tickets cost money.

Be considerate—ease the parking difficulties.

Our Policy

To be stoutly independent and to print only what we honestly believe true.

To be constructive and tolerant, but never careless or blind.

To be indignant at injustices and unafraid of exposing them.

To ever strive for improvement.

SCAC to Play Leading Role In Student Council Relations

By RUTH ZUCKER

It has often been said that the Student Council does not keep close enough contact with the average member of the student body. This accusation carries more significance than you realize. At the Student Council's first meeting of the current semester the reasons and solutions for this problem were stated quite readily.

It is felt by the Student Council that something must be done where the two extremes, the student and the Student Council member, can meet on a common ground. The solution? The Student Council Advisory Committee. The SCAC is to receive and review the problems of the student body. If this committee approves the petition, it then goes to the Student Council for further discussion. In other words, SCAC works as a pre-screening committee for the Student Council.

GRIPES CONSIDERED

The member body of the SCAC is composed of one elected member of every officially recognized organization on the UB campus. This representative to SCAC is your link to the Student Council. Recently, one of the students complained, "The students have gripes but don't know what to do or where to bring their problems." The answer lies within the realms of SCAC. This committee, if successful, should banish that phrase "keeping us at arms length." It should act as your in between man.

When your organization is notified of the first SCAC meeting, be sure to have a capable representative present who will be able to discuss intelligently your problems as well as others. Remember: SCAC is your delegate to the Student Council! This is one representative that the Student Council needs and welcomes.

Foneyville Follies

By BILL O'BRIEN

Well Students, after one and one-half weeks of confusion, conflicts, and cognate happenings . . . we are now ready, I suppose, to settle down and concentrate on restful UB social affairs . . . After one of these affairs . . . "Did you get home all right last night?" . . . "No trouble at all, except that as I was turning into my street some fool stepped on my fingers."

And may I remind you that you haven't had a real hang-over until you can't stand the noise of a Bromo-Seltzer . . . Coffee now seven cents . . . No comment . . . Important! Due to greatly overcrowded conditions, the Snack Bar will soon be accepting reservations . . . Apply in person, with references, at 3:30 any day. . . .

No sooner are the words out of the typewriter about Fraternity pins, than three Theta Sigma men lose theirs . . . Bud Campbell pinned Jane Lawrie . . . Jack Shannon pinned Claire Coriveau . . . And Bob Heath pinned Lenore Bifield. . . .

Classes in Fairfield Hall seem to be a meeting place for all business students . . . Everyone meets there . . . Room A305 is lower than a Dachshund's stomach . . . Some Simile, Son . . . Bob Lyons out for soccer—just for kicks . . . Bob Stella will be back in February . . . It seems he had such a good job that he hated to leave. . . .

Lots of live wires around here wouldn't be so hot if it wasn't for their connections . . . UB Soph—"May I kiss you, . . . May I kiss you? . . . Say! are you deaf?" . . . UB Co-ed—"No, are you paralyzed?" That must have been

In the greater Bridgeport area several pictures ranging from light comedy to heavy drama are currently being presented.

At Loew's Poli is "My Blue Heaven" starring versatile Dan Dailey and the perennial pin-up, Betty Grable. A college comedy, "Peggy" with Diana Lynn as the winsome co-ed, and Charles Coburn as the witty professor, is now at the Majestic. The Warner and Merritt are featuring John Garfield and Patricia Neal in "The Breaking Point." The movie has been adapted from Ernest Hemingway's thrilling story of the same name.

Religious drama is offered at Black Rock Theatre in the form of a French produced play, "Monsieur Vincent." This is the life and times of St. Vincent De Paul. The next attraction at Black Rock will be the opera "Faust and the Devil."

Congratulations to the Freshman Queen, whoever she may be . . . Several males have mentioned to me that they are getting tired of these Queen affairs . . . (Affairs with Queens?) . . . And that they would like a King affair with just the girls voting. . . .

Moral: It's better for a girl to have a big bad wolf in front of her house than a little bitzy bear behind . . . The residence hall girls outnumber the residence hall boys by more than two-to-one . . . Meal times at Marina certainly prove it . . . By the groans heard around here it seems another

Walt Lombardo, from Bermuda, ran into (met) Betty Vanderpott, Stratford Hall, also of Bermuda . . . Neither knew the other was here. . . .

Sights I've missed: Andy Olayos leaving Zombory's at 10:30 the night before the Adelphi game . . . The Campus Thunder sign being used as a window replacement in Warren Harding . . . The overzealous upperclassman scaring some poor misguided freshmen. . . .

PURPLE AND WHITE UNIFORMS of UB's 60-piece band are shown by L-R: Director John C. Worley, drum majorette Marjorie Cisero, saxophonist John Rossignol and trumpeter Francis Kraynick. The newly-uniformed band which made its first public appearance at last Saturday's Ithaca game will again be on hand when the U-Bees tackle Wilkes College this Saturday at 8 P. M. in Candlelite Stadium.

Re-Injured Knee Has Ramik Out

Tim Ramik, veteran UB end who re-injured his knee in the UBees loss to Adelphi Sept. 23 was on the bench when his teammates opened their home schedule last Saturday against Ithaca.

It marked the first time in his three seasons of varsity play at UB that Ramik has not appeared in a game. Tim was co-captain, along with Hank Newman, during the 1948 and '49 campaigns.

Ramik first suffered injury to his knee in last year's 46-0 rout of Panzer. He underwent an operation in February and the bothersome joint appeared to be healed. However, initial game baptism this season brought on the recurrence. It is also doubtful whether he will be ready for this Saturday's contest with Wilkes.

Intramural Sports Conference Plans Bigger and Better Sports

After a two hour meeting behind closed doors, the UB Intramural Sports Council emerged from their conference with smiles on their faces, the biggest worn by Tony Iannone, IM director, and Lionel F. "Mac" McCabe, the newly elected council chairman.

At this first meeting, plans were made to enlarge the touch football league as well as to recheck the rules. This league goes into action Oct. 9. The deadline for all entries is Oct. 5.

IM HANDBOOK

Rules concerning touch football will be made available to all students sometime this week. Iannone has compiled a small IM handbook containing information on all IM activities and he will distribute a copy of it to all male students.

Director Iannone announced that he intends to have an IM cross-country meet on Oct. 11 at 4:00 P. M. The entrants must be as teams (no singletons) with at least three members. The proposed course will be two miles around Seaside Park. Deadline for entrants is noon of Oct. 10.

Swimming, too, will make its debut on this year's IM calendar. Plans are now being made to have a meet on Nov. 1, in the North Maury McDermott, Jim Hegan.

End Boys' Club pool. The meet will consist of nine events; 40-yard, 80-yard, and 100-yard free style races; 40-yard and 60-yard backstroke events; 40-yard and 60-yard breaststrokes; diving, and an 80-yard relay.

POINT SYSTEM

In addition to cross-country and swimming, Iannone will also present a new point system to the IM program. The plan calls for the awarding of a yet undesignated number of points for each contest, winners and losers both being given awards, and the team or organization with the highest total of points will be crowned IM champs. They will receive a large "All Sports Trophy."

Major Leaguers Here

Local baseball fans will have a chance to see their favorite stars in action on Wednesday Oct. 11 at Candlelite Stadium, when Birdie Tebbetts brings his All Star baseball squad here to face an All Star Bridgeport club.

The major league lineup features Phil Rizzuto, Ed Ford, Walt Dropo, Art Houtteman, Vic Wertz, Johnny Groth, Eddie Lopat, Johnny Pesky, Bob Kennedy, a meet on Nov. 1, in the North Maury McDermott, Jim Hegan.

UB Seeks Second Straight Win In Saturday Arc-Game

Straightened out and on the winning road after their opening week setback, UB's gridsters meet another of their last season's conquerors when they face a strong Wilkes College squad Saturday night at Candlelite Stadium. Kick-off time is 8 P. M.

Last year, UB dropped a 21-13 decision to the Pennsylvania Colonels who won seven and tied one in a nine-game schedule. Wilkes' only downfall was suffered in the Rider contest while another, powerful eleven, St. Francis, held them to a 14-14 deadlock.

Wilkes opened their 1950 seven-game slate last Saturday against the same St. Francis outfit. Following the UB encounter, Wilkes will face Ithaca who they topped in '49, 28-6. Ithaca stopped UB in '49, 19-6, but Bridgeport turned the tables last Saturday, 13-6.

The strength of these comparison scores plus the fact that the visiting Colonels play a high brand of opposition, argues for a tough contest for the U-Bees to hurdle.

However, considering their winning performance with Ithaca, the U-Bees may drop the Colonels. Showing a vast improvement over their Adelphi showing, Bridgeport, starting early in the second half, rolled on to a convincing win.

With Johnny (Babe) Longo and Frank Giannini alternating in skirting the weak Ithaca ends, UB twice drove the length of the field to tally their TD's the first on a jump pass from Longo to Capt. Lou Saccone, and the second on a short buck by Frank Costa.

One short-coming could be found with the team's game, although it didn't turn out to be too disastrous. Again as in the Adelphi contest, UB was unable to go through the middle of the line. Luckily, Ithaca was weak at the flanks and UB was able to go around them the entire second half.

Bridgeport combined these end-sweeps with a few passes into the flat for the bulk of their yardage. Two of these tosses were caught by Andy Olayos, one a spectacular grab, that netted 32 yards, which was the largest single ground-gainer in the second TD march.

Mention must be made of the play of another end, Ed Hall, who turned in a nice job on the defense. Joe Kerpchar, along with Tony DiMatteo, also were instrumental in blocking up the holes in the UB forward wall during the second half after Ithaca had jumped into a 6-0 first half advantage.

Step Up Practice As Soccer Team Approaches Sked.

Fighting against time and inexperience, UB soccer Coach Tony Iannone has started full scale practice to condition his players for the approaching eight-game schedule.

With less than three weeks remaining before the opener against CCNY on Oct. 14, Iannone plans to hold daily scrimmages in order to give his charges a chance to get actual game experience.

Although the outlook for a winning campaign is not too good, the prospects have nevertheless improved during the past seven days.

"Our offense will be strong and we should score a few goals before the season ends," the young mentor states. "However, unless we improve our defense, we will be in for trouble," he continues.

Fifteen candidates reported for the opening practice sessions last week. Another handful of players including veterans Jack Stuart, Ernie Boros, and Sam Weinman are due to begin work either the latter part of this or the first part of next week.

"When we finally get all our men together, I will be able to begin rounding our team into shape for our opener," Iannone remarks.

Studies Blind Students

HANOVER, N. H., (ACP)—Blind Edward L. Glaser has just won one of Dartmouth college's highest scholastic honors. The 20-year-old youth from Glencoe, Ill., has been awarded a senior fellowship for a year's independent study. Beginning next Fall, Glaser will be excused from formal classes in order to devote his time to a special project: the comprehensive study of blind students in the nation's universities and colleges.

Cross-Countrymen Face Bleak Year With Small Squad

A slim turnout of less than ten men for the cross-country squad has caused Coach Ed Tamashunas to develop an early season's growth of grey-hairs.

Only two returnees from the '49 squad are among the prospects, one a letterman. He is Jack Gaston who sparked both the cross-country and track squads last year. The other veteran is Carl Rodenheizer.

Tamashunas is anything but optimistic about his team's chances; but he is not altogether dim about the subject either. "I will not be able to tell what we will have until I can see the boys in their first workouts this week. However, we undoubtedly will be severely handicapped unless we can get more material," he states.

Gals Launch IM Volleyball

The 1950-51 women's intramural will begin Oct. 9 with a volleyball tournament scheduled for the court behind Bishop Hall. IM director Tony Iannone, urged that UB's co-eds submit their rosters to him at his office as soon as possible.

Sports Review

by BILL CHAMBAULT, JR.
SPORTS EDITOR

WHAT A DIFFERENCE one week can make. Two Saturdays ago UB's football team looked about as good as a stack of $3 dollar bills. Last Saturday night, they played like a million bucks. It was a form reversal that would make even those New York claiming races envious.

There is simply no room for comparison; the difference is that great. Even the team's play in the first half against Ithaca (although Bridgeport trailed at the intermission) was of a higher grade than that shown in the Adelphi disaster.

When the U-Bees got going early in the third period after their slow start, there was no catching them. They were on fire and they stayed that way right down to the end.

THE TEAM'S PLAY in the second half was reminiscent of the play in the final four wins of last season. The line charged low; the blocking in the line and on the ends was sharp. Especially noticeable was the improvement in the downfield blocking. For the first time this year, UB backs received help in the secondary and they made good use of it. Aided by the interference afforded them by their mates, Johnny (Babe) Longo, Frank Giannini, Hank Steffens, Tony Ross, and Frank Costa continually were able to rip off large pieces of yardage to spark UB's two long scoring drives.

That is another sign that the team is coming around. UB didn't need any "breaks" to score. They simply took the punts deep in their own territory and grinded out the distance. No fumbles; No pass interceptions; No blocked kicks. They didn't get any help; in fact UB had to overcome an offside infraction on Ithaca's one-yard line before they hit paydirt the first time.

WE VIEWED THE GAME from the roof, along with Line Coach Tom Nicholas who was "scouting" the play and reporting any information he uncovered to the bench via walkie-talkie. When the teams trudged off the field at the game's conclusion, Tom remarked, "It's about time the club started to go. You wouldn't mind if you knew the boys didn't have it, but it makes you mad to know they do and yet continue to make mistakes and play lackadaisically."

Perhaps that is why we were so shocked with the Adelphi contest. Not by what we saw but by what we didn't see. We expected the team to pick up right where they left off last season. We were a week too early, that's all.

Saturday, UB meets Wilkes College, a strong eleven from the coal mine country of Pennsylvania. Should Bridgeport improve half as much over their last performance as they did their first—beware, brethren, beware.

BETWEEN DOTS: Elsewhere on these pages is mention of Tim Ramik's absence from UB line-up versus Ithaca. Another absentee was tackle Dick Whelan with slight concussion. . . . Varsity basketball turnout was 38. Coach Herb Glines expects final count of about 50. . . . Glines was principal speaker at North End Boys Club banquet last Friday. Topic was "Importance of A College Education". . . . Two former UB linemen aiding local HS grid mentors. Norm Victor tutoring Bassick line, Willie Moran directing Harding freshmen. . . . Steve Komlos, ex-UB pitcher, now physical director at Orcutt Boys Club on East Side.

PLATTER PARADE

By G. CLEF

Decca pulled a boner over the past summer. They paired Gordon Jenkins' "Good Night Irene" and "Tzena, Tzena, Tzena," on one platter and then turned around and pasted Gary and Bing Crosby's "Sam's Song" and "A Simple Melody" on one disc.

Now, as far as the nickle pulling goes, these sides as independents are four of the top five in the country. The only outsider in the bunch is Nat Coles' "Mona Lisa" which absolutely refuses to die. All of which goes to show how considerate Decca is. They give you four hits for the price of two.

The later releases of this company show that this skein of hits, which started with "I Can Dream, Can't I," will not stop. For instance take the Gordon Jenkins and Artie Shaw collaboration on "Blowing Bubbles." That one is pulling the nickels quite well and will continue to do so for some time.

Another one of the better sides to come out is "Can Anyone Explain" by Ella Fitzgerald and Louis Armstrong. This platter is just what you would expect from Ella and Louis; nothing but the best.

Art Ford, this last summer, introduced a song from his beloved France, which, over there was called "Bolero." Here we took a liking to it so English words were written and some of our top recording artists waxed it. Now it is well on its way toward being a big hit. The disc I like best on it is Patti Page's version of it in its English form: "All My Love."

Jimmy Durante and Eddie Jackson's platter of "Won't You Come Home Bill Bailey?"

is another one of Jimmy's good robust vaudevillian offerings but something new was added. Eddie Jackson wraps it up and steals it right from under Jimmy's schnozz. And so with apologies to Victor and Columbia (no plays) so long till next time.

Mills and Scurr Scholarships Awarded to Two UB Co-eds

Miss Norma Larson and Miss Nancy C. Britting have been named the 1950-51 recipients of the Helen M. Scurr Scholarship and the Mary C. Mills Scholarship respectively.

Miss Larson, a Dental Hygiene student, is the daughter of Mrs. Marcus Larson, 424 Mountain Grove Street, Bridgeport. She was also the recipient of the E. Everett Cortright Scholarship from Roger Ludlowe High School, Stratford.

Miss Britting is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Britting, 867 Boston Post Road, Milford. A member of Theta Epsilon sorority, Miss Britting is a senior majoring in Sociology.

The Helen M. Scurr Scholarship, the gift of the Faculty Women's Club of the University is awarded to a full time member of the Senior Class.

The Mary C. Mills Scholarship was established at the University by Miss Jessie I. Mills in memory of her late sister, Mary C. Mills. The award is made by the scholarship committee of the alumnae of Froebel Normal School and the recipient must be either a graduate or a descendant of a graduate of that school. This marks the third year that either of the two scholarships have been awarded.

The winners of the Quota Club Scholarship and the Bernard Scholarship will be announced as soon as the awards are presented.
